

ABSTRACT

A new and distinct cultivar of Hibiscus moscheutos plant named ‘Balhiblu’, 5 characterized by its upright and uniform plant habit, flowers having light pink edge fading towards the center to white with a dark red “eye”, and light green-colored leaves.